HARBOR FREIGHT TOOLS INTRODUCES, PORTABLE 20V BRUSHLESS CORDLESS 2-STAGE VACUUM PUMP TO ITS PROFESSIONAL HERCULES™ LINE

(June 27, 2024; Calabasas, CA) Harbor Freight Tools has added a powerful compact 20V Lithium-Ion Brushless Cordless 2-Stage Vacuum Pump to its professional HERCULES™ line.

This premium Vacuum Pump is engineered to vacuum down to 23 microns and can be used to remove moisture and contaminants from a sealed system in a variety of applications including automotive, industrial, and HVAC.

The HERCULES 20V Lithium-Ion Brushless Cordless 2-Stage Vacuum Pump has an internal check valve that stops oil from entering air conditioning systems, while the oil gauge allows the user to easily check the oil level. A large fill port allows for quick and easy oil changes while a DC motor provides fast evacuation. An isolation valve stops pumping from the system with just a quarter of a turn.

The two stages of the Vacuum Pump allow the user to quickly produce a higher vacuum level.

Included with the tool are a 1/4 in. SAE flare, 3/8 in. SAE flare, and 1/2 in. RH Acme inlet valves compatible with most air conditioning manifold hose sizes, as well as 7.7 oz. of oil. The durable Vacuum Pump is lightweight (7.4 lb.) and doesn't require the use of a power cord to provide easy portability, setup, and breakdown on the job.

The Brushless Cordless Vacuum Pump is compatible with all HERCULES 20V battery packs. For maximum performance, use with a 5.0 Ah battery or greater. Batteries are sold separately.

Currently priced at $139.99, the HERCULES 20V Lithium-Ion Brushless Cordless 2-Stage Vacuum Pump, offers incredible value compared to the competition, and is available only at Harbor Freight.
